UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ASIA AWAD,

Plaintiff,

v.

LIBERTY MUTUAL FIRE
INSURANCE COMPANY, RAAD
KHALAF and DOES 1-30, inclusive,,

Defendant.

Case No. 08-CV-00696-JM-AJB

REPLY TO PLAINTIFF'S OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT RAAD KHALAF'S MOTION TO DISMISS

Date June 6, 2008
Time: 1:30 p.m.
Courtroom: 16
Judge: Judge Jeffrey T. Miller
Magistrate Judge:
Complaint Filed: 4/16/08
Trial Date: None set

Plaintiff Asia Awad ("AWAD") has failed to state a claim against Defendant Raad Khalaf ("KHALAF") because she has pled no facts that could establish an enforceable duty under dual agency or under the special duty exception. AWAD has not pled that KHALAF was acting as her sole agent and she has not pled that KHALAF was acting as a dual agent. Therefore, pursuant to Good v. Prudential Ins. Co. of Am., 5 F.Supp.2d 804 (N.D. Cal. 1998), her claims against KHALAF are untenable and should be dismissed pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6).

I.

AWAD HAS NOT PLEAD FACTS SUFFICIENT TO ESTABLISH THAT KHALAF OWED HER A DUTY AS HER AGENT

It is axiomatic that a plaintiff is bound by the allegations included in her complaint and AWAD has clearly alleged that KHALAF was an agent and employee of Liberty Mutual Fire Insurance Company (“LMFIC”) and that KHALAF was acting within the scope of that agency and employment “at all times.” (Complaint at ¶ 2) Moreover, this allegation of the complaint was specifically incorporated into the sole cause of action alleged against KHALAF. (Complaint at ¶ 15) Here, AWAD’s own allegations are sufficient for the purposes of this motion to establish that KHALAF was an agent and employee of LMFIC. This allegation is identical to the circumstances found in Good. See Good v. Prudential, 5 F.Supp.2d. at 808 (citing complaint). Further, the declarations page of the contract attached to AWAD’s complaint clearly shows that KHALAF was an agent of LMFIC.

It is disingenuous for AWAD to now claim that there is no evidence that KHALAF was acting as an agent and employee of LMFIC when her own allegations confirm that he was. And, consequently, AWAD cannot possibly establish that KHALAF was acting as her sole agent as any such attempt would be entirely contradictory to the allegations of her complaint.¹

Significantly, AWAD’s opposition admits that Good is controlling on the issue of dual agency. Good held that an insurance agent cannot be a dual agent unless he is an independent broker or has a long-term relationship with the insured. Id. at 808. Because AWAD alleged that KHALAF is an employee and agent of LMFIC, she cannot contradict that allegation and argue that KHALAF is an independent broker. Further, the complaint does not present any allegations establishing a long-term relationship between

¹ Not only is AWAD’s “sole agent” argument contradictory to paragraph 2 of the complaint, but she also fails to allege any facts supporting the argument and relies solely on conclusory allegations.

1 AWAD and KHALAF. AWAD has not alleged dual agency in this case, nor has she
2 explained in her opposition how she could, therefore, KHALAF should be dismissed.

3 II.

4 AWAD HAS NOT PLED ANY FACTS TO SUPPORT

5 THE APPLICATION OF THE SPECIAL DUTY EXCEPTION

6 The factual allegations of AWAD's complaint could not possibly lead to the 7 "special duty" exception she cites. In Quiroz v. Valley Forge Insurance 2005 U.S. Dist.
8 LEXIS 43316 (N.D. Cal.), the court found that there are three circumstances where a 9 special duty could arise: (1) where the agent misrepresents the nature, extent or scope of 10 the coverage being offered; (2) where the agent assumes an additional duty by express
11 agreement or by holding himself out as having expertise in a specific field; or (3) where 12 the insured requests a specific type or extent of coverage and the agent fails to procure
13 that coverage. Id. at *20.

14 In this case, AWAD has not alleged that (1) KHALAF made misrepresentations to 15 AWAD regarding the nature, extent or scope; (2) that KHALAF expressly agreed to 16 assume an additional duty or held himself out as an expert; or (3) that KHALAF failed
17 to procure the type and extent of insurance AWAD requested. In fact, AWAD alleges in 18 her complaint that LMFIC issued a policy for exactly the type and extent of coverage she 19 was seeking. Further, AWAD filed this lawsuit to enforce the coverage that KHALAF
20 obtained for her and not because KHALAF failed to obtain the coverage. AWAD's
21 failure to articulate in her opposition how the special duty exception could possibly apply
22 to this case further illustrates its inapplicability. In the absence of any factual allegations
23 that could possibly lead to the application of the special duty exception, that exception
24 does not apply here.

25 III.

26 CONCLUSION

27 There are absolutely no factual allegations that support any finding that KHALAF
28 was acting as the sole agent of AWAD or that KHALAF was acting as a dual agent for

1 both LMFIC and AWAD. AWAD's unsupported, conclusory allegations that KHALAF
 2 was her agent are insufficient to establish an agency relationship. Further, the factual
 3 allegations of the complaint do not lead to the application of the special duty exception.
 4 Not only does the complaint fail to allege sufficient facts, but AWAD fails to provide any 5 analysis in her opposition showing how the alleged facts lead to the application of dual
 6 agency or special duty. Because there is no basis for an enforceable duty, there is no
 7 possible way that AWAD could state a cause of action against KHALAF and this case
 8 should be dismissed for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.
